

A MANUAL FOR HOLY RELATIONSHIP - DIAGRAM

Special Relationship Pendulum

Using the image of a pendulum here, we will call this special relationship pendulum “fear.”

Special Relationship Pendulum

Special love is always fear in disguise. In our special relationships all that occurs is similar to a pendulum that swings incessantly from the ego’s hotly desired forms of fear such as pleasure, to its most viciously rejected forms of fear such as conflict, pain and loss. The whole pendulum is fear. As fear itself, it can only swing between these two versions of fear. These two polarities of fear represent the ego’s “symbols” of love. Like a pendulum, its entire field of action is completely circumscribed by fear. This is not Love. And this is why so many human relationships fail.